Directory Overview

At the request of Charlotte's City Council, The Charlotte- Mecklenburg Community Relations Committee (CRC) convened representatives of City and County government, Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools, area non-profits and the faith community to form a community collaborative that addresses parenting, youth employment, mentoring and gangs.

The Community Collaborative on Parenting, Youth Employment, Mentoring and Gangs is pleased to present this 2010 directory of family services in Charlotte-Mecklenburg, edited by CRC. The directory lists and describes family services available in Charlotte-Mecklenburg including, childcare, community involvement, computers & technology, crisis support, education & literacy, employment, health & wellness, legal services, mental health & behavioral counseling and mentoring.

The directory's purpose is to list public and private non-profit organizations in the area of family services which serve the families of Charlotte and Mecklenburg County. Persons needing assistance on topics not covered in this document may contact "Just 1 Call" at 704-432-1111 or visit United Way of Central Carolinas' at www.uwcentralcarolinas.org or dial 2-1-1.

Inclusion of an organization in the directory is not an endorsement of its purpose or quality of service by the Community Collaborative on Parenting, Youth Employment, Mentoring and Gangs, nor does exclusion of an organization indicate lack of endorsement. We have tried our best to include as many agencies as possible. Please feel free to contact the CRC office at 704-336-2424 with any updates, questions or concerns.

Crisis Support

A Child's Place

PO Box 33302, Charlotte, NC 28233

Phone: 704-343-3790, Fax: 704-343-379, www.achildsplace.org

A Child's Place works to erase the impact of homelessness on children and their education.

Services

Homeless children are provided with stable, appropriate education in a mainstream setting through A Child's Place. Comprehensive and timely assessments ensure that students receive the instruction and services they need. For the homeless students who are in need of extra support in order to achieve academic success, food, clothing, personal hygiene products and school supplies are distributed. Volunteer professionals provide medical, dental and counseling services. Volunteer tutors and "lunch buddy" mentors also offer academic and emotional support to children coping with stress, fear and other emotions resulting from homelessness. Scholarships to after school programs accommodate working parents' schedules and enrich learning experiences.

A Child's Place works to erase the impact of homelessness on children and their education.

Services

Homeless children are provided with stable, appropriate education in a mainstream setting through A Child's Place. Comprehensive and timely assessments ensure that students receive the instruction and services they need. For the homeless students who are in need of extra support in order to achieve academic success, food, clothing, personal hygiene products and school supplies are distributed. Volunteer professionals provide medical, dental and counseling services. Volunteer tutors and "lunch buddy" mentors also offer academic and emotional support to children coping with stress, fear and other emotions resulting from homelessness. Scholarships to after school programs accommodate working parents' schedules and enrich learning experiences.
