

Figure 9. Drawings of the three types of breast waterwheels - from top to bottom, a low, middle, and high wheel. Brooke Hindle, ed., America's Wooden Age: Aspects of its Early Technology (Tarrytown, N.Y.: Sleepy Hollow Restorations, 1975), 131.

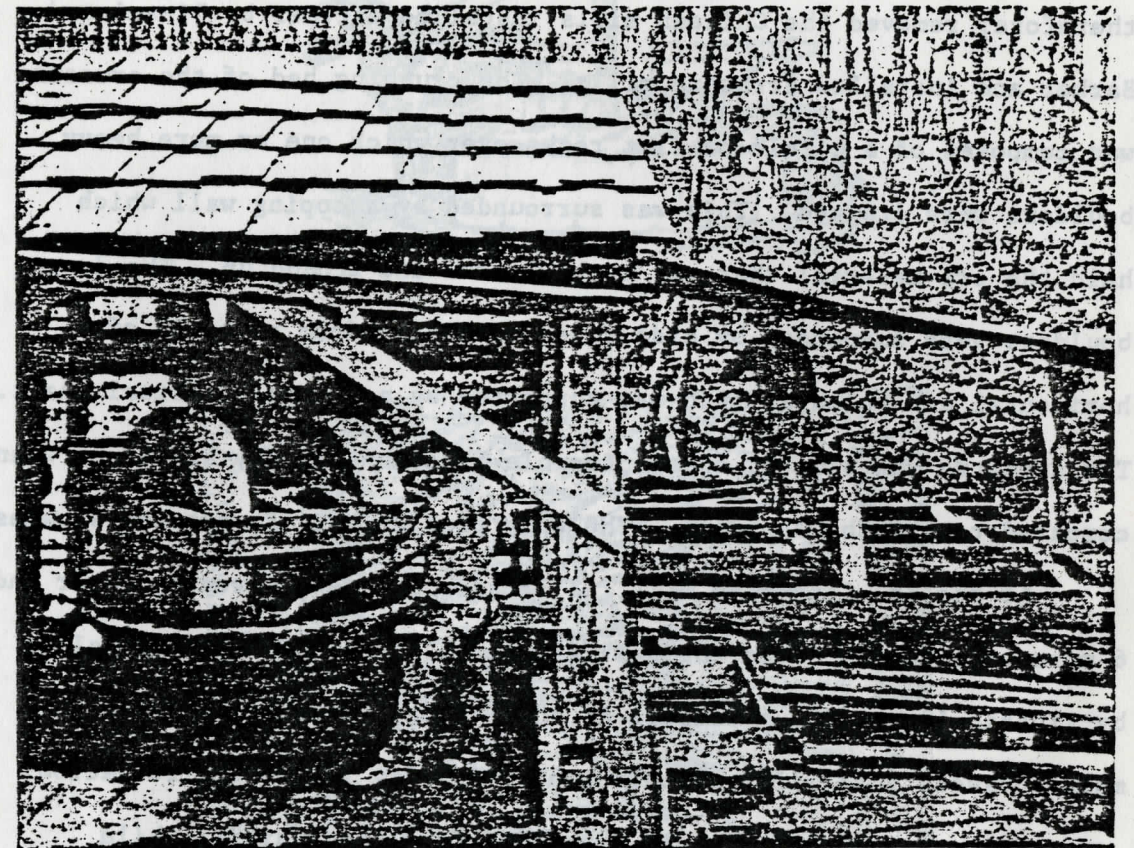

Figure 10. A Chilean mill and associated rockers of the type used at the St. Catherine mill (Photo taken at a mine near Salisbury, Rowan County about 1895) Henry B. C. Nitze and H. A. J. Wilkens, Gold Mining in North Carolina and Adjacent South Appalachian Regions (Raleigh, N.C.: Guy V. Barnes [North Carolina Geological Survey Bulletin 10], 1897), plate 1.