

MECKLENBURG COUNTY PARK AND RECREATION ANNUAL REPORT 2011

MESSAGE FROM THE PRC CHAIRMAN

Greetings,

While this past year certainly brought its challenges, your Mecklenburg County Park and Recreation Department provided outstanding service to you and all of our residents. We actually saw the department have its highest customer satisfaction results, highest attendance and highest record revenue ever!

For the second straight year, Park and Recreation was nominated for the National Gold Medal Award which is the "Academy Award" for overall park and recreation management among the largest cities in the country.

As you read through this report you'll see the accomplishments of our staff, volunteers and partners who brought you these programs and opportunities.

Our collective challenge for the future as a department and community will be to meet the increasing needs for parks, recreation programs and protection of our natural environment with limited funding. We must understand the essential nature of park and recreation services and find ways to not just maintain what we have, but grow the system to meet current residents' demands and those in the future.

There are no great cities without great park and recreation systems.

Sincerely,

Captain Robert "Rob" J. Brisley

Mecklenburg County Park and Recreation Commission Chairman

MAJOR EVENTS

ROMARE BEARDEN'S LEGACY CELEBRATED WITH GROUNDBREAKING OF NEW UPTOWN PARK

Mecklenburg County Park and Recreation, in partnership with the Arts and Science Council, Charlotte Center City Partners and Partners for Parks, held a groundbreaking ceremony for Romare Bearden Park, uptown Charlotte's newest park, on Sept. 2, 2011.

The groundbreaking ceremony, which would have marked the 100th birthday of the famous artist, offered unique experiences through an array of cultural activities ranging, from a musical performance from a local jazz band to an exhibit of youth art inspired by Romare Bearden. A Romare Bearden commemorative stamp display was also featured. Watch the video.

CELEBRATION MARKS GRAND OPENING OF RUTH G. SHAW TRAIL ON TOBY CREEK GREENWAY

Mecklenburg County Park and Recreation, along with Catawba Lands Conservancy, the Carolina Thread Trail and the University of North Carolina Charlotte celebrated the grand opening of the Ruth G. Shaw Trail on Toby Creek Greenway on Tuesday, May 3, 2011.

Toby Creek Greenway is located in the University City area and connects the 7.1 mile-long Mallard / Clark's Creek Greenway to and through the campus of UNC Charlotte. The new trail is named in honor of Dr. Ruth G. Shaw, a longtime civic and business leader and the founding chair of the governing board of the Carolina Thread Trail, an interconnected trail system in Piedmont North and South Carolina.

Under Dr. Shaw's leadership, nine of the Thread's 15 counties have adopted countywide master plans for a total of 1,000 planned trail miles. About 67 miles of trail have opened, and $1,568,002 has been awarded in catalytic grants from the Thread to community partners who are advancing the project throughout the region.

Toby Creek Greenway was funded by a $1.25 million grant from the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009. The greenway stretches two miles and links many neighborhoods in the university area to the UNC Charlotte campus, allowing many students, faculty, and staff to walk or ride bikes to the university. Neighborhoods which adjoin this greenway system include Fairlea, Wellington, Winchester, Mallard Ridge, Radbourne, Colvard Park, Mallard Trace, Brookstone, and the University Research Park.

REVOLUTION PARK GOLF COURSE RENAMED THE CHARLES L. SIFFORD GOLF COURSE

Revolution Park Golf Course, held a special ceremony to rename the golf course the Dr. Charles L. Sifford Golf Course at Revolution Park on Tuesday, May 3, 2011. The ceremony included an invocation by the Rev. George Cook Jr. of Greater Mt. Sinai Baptist Church, followed by a brief recognition and reflection period, remarks by golf colleagues and Dr. Sifford, as well as an unveiling of the new sign.

Dr. Sifford was born in Charlotte in 1922 and later became a successful PGA Tour professional. He is recognized as the first African-American to receive his official tour player's card and compete in PGA events. During his career, Dr. Sifford won the 1967 Greater Hartford Open Invitational, 1969 Los Angeles Open, and the 1975 PGA Seniors' Championship. In 2004, Dr. Sifford became the first African-American inducted into the World Golf Hall of Fame.

Dr. Charles L. Sifford Golf Course is one of seven public golf facilities owned by Mecklenburg County. Watch the video.

MECKLENBURG COUNTY AQUATIC CENTER CELEBRATES 20TH ANNIVERSARY

On June 7, 2011, the Mecklenburg County Aquatic Center celebrated its 20th anniversary. The celebration was highlighted by the unveiling of a brand new state-of-the-art LCD scoreboard followed by brief remarks from local dignitaries as well as past and present staff.

Over the years, the facility, which features a 50-meter competition pool, a 25-meter therapeutic pool and a fitness center, has hosted several large events including the Charlotte UltraSwim. Watch the video.

PARK AND REC AND HANDS ON CHARLOTTE TEAM UP TO BUILD PARK IN LINCOLN HEIGHTS

To commemorate the tenth anniversary of the 9/11 attacks, Mecklenburg County Park and Recreation and local nonprofit agency Hands On Charlotte partnered to raise money to build an 11-acre park in Charlotte's Lincoln Heights neighborhood.

“We are very excited to partner with Hands On Charlotte to make this park a reality,” said Jim Garges, director of Mecklenburg County Park and Recreation. “The master plan for our department is to have a park within six blocks of every home. This is a major step in realizing that goal.” Watch the video.

MECKLENBURG PARK AND REC NAMED A FINALIST FOR THE NRPA GOLD MEDAL AWARD FOR THE SECOND STRAIGHT YEAR!

Mecklenburg County Park and Recreation Department was named one of four finalist agencies in competition for the 2011 NRPA Gold Medal Award. The award is presented annually by the National Recreation and Park Association (NRPA) to honor excellence in management and planning of parks and recreation agencies. This is the second year in a row the department has been named a finalist for the award.

Recreation professionals consider the Gold Medal Award as the top national recognition of excellence in their profession.

"I'm very proud of the work and professional dedication of our staff and volunteers to earn this recognition," said Jim Garges, director of Mecklenburg County Park and Recreation Department.

A panel of leading experts chose the Mecklenburg department as a finalist for the Gold Medal in the category for communities with a population of more than 250,000. Other finalists in this category included: Kansas City Parks and Recreation Department (Kansas City, MO), Miami-Dade County Park and Recreation Department (Miami, FL), and Portland Parks and Recreation (Portland, OR). The choice was based on extensive written submissions about the department, both statistical and narrative, in response to a series of specific questions posed by NRPA.

This award honors the top communities in the United States that demonstrate excellence in long-range planning, resource management, volunteerism, environmental stewardship, program development, professional development and agency recognition.
